Graduates of Indiana high schools as well as the graduates of Franklin Community High School and graduates of Johnson County high schools who wish to become nurses in the near future may apply for the Peoples Foundation Trust Scholarship.

The Peoples Foundation Trust Scholarship is a program sponsored by Johnson County Community Foundation. This scholarship program awards each scholar a financial assistance amounting to $4000 that can be used to pay their tuition fees and other school related expenses except for room and board.

The Peoples Foundation Trust Scholarship is generally granted for one year. However, the scholarship committee may grant eligible scholars to continue their scholarships for up to 8 semesters. The criteria for determining the scholarship recipients include the applicants' academic performance, financial needs, recommendations and the results of a personal interview with the scholarship committee.

Aside from high school graduates who want to pursue nursing degree programs in Indiana College or university, this scholarship is also open to those who plan to attend dietetics, industrial arts or technology education. The last day of application submission is on March 1.
